WILL SADAT'S ASSASSINS BE ALLOWED TO MEET IN HOUSTON?

By Senator Professor Khurshid Ahmad

On October 6, 1981, six Muslim Brotherhood fanatics murdered Egyptian President Anwar Sadat in an attempt to launch a full-scale, "Iranization" of the Middle East. This action was carried out by the Brotherhood in behalf of those agencies and institutions attempting to implement a global depopulation policy outlined in the document "Global 2000".

All intelligence analysts agree that if the Muslim Brotherhood and their terrorist networks, which include the Khomeini regime in Iran, are not outlawed internationally, they will launch a wave of bloody actions across the globe in support of this Iranization effort-with Saudi Arabia being the next target. As in the case of the successful takeover of Iran by these forces, this will be coupled with terrorist outbreaks in Western Europe and the United States in support of this strategy. Former Attorney General Ramsey Clark, a leading supporter of the Brotherhood who assisted in Khomeini's rise to power, admitted as much when he announced recently that the entire Left is being mobilized in support of the Brotherhood's actions in Egypt.

On October 21-25, twenty-three of the top leaders, and controllers of that same Muslim Brotherhood will be coming into Houston for an international colloquium at the Rothko Chapel entitled: "Islam: Spiritual Message and Quest for Justice." Under the guise of an academic forum, these fanatics will be plotting out their next series of destabilizations and picking out their next victims. Among those attending the conference will be:

- Salem Azzam, the Secretary General of the Islamic Council in Europe. Muslim Brotherhood operations from Morocco to Pakistan are directed from this Council. Through this post, Azzam controls Islamic Centers in Europe which are used as staging grounds by the Brotherhood. The Islamic Council also coordinates the actions of the Islamic Institute for Defense Technology (IIDT). A leader of the IIDT, General Sa'ad el Shazli, acted as the coordinating point for opposition to the late President Sadat. Shazli's group, "The Organization of Free Officers for the Liberation of Egypt," openly claimed credit for the assassination of Sadat and he has called for an insurrection in Egypt since the time of the murder.
- Hamid Algar, University of California, Berkeley. A British orientalist who converted to Islam, he is a pro-Khomeini ideologue. Functioning as a Muslim "guru", he recruits students into the U.S. branch of the Brotherhood, the Muslim Students Association (MSA). He heads up a MSA front called the Concerned Muslims of Berkeley, which is aiding Islamic insurrection in the Philippines, Egypt, Syria, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Turkey.
- Khurshid Ahmad, Director of the Institute for Policy Studies in Pakistan, formerly head of the Islamic Foundation in Leicester, England. The coordinator of the Brotherhood in Pakistan, Ahmad worked with the Qadiani sect there to overthrow and execute Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto. He is an advisor to dictator General Zia Ul-Haq.

The participants of this conference already are responsible for heinous crimes, including murder. For the security of Houston, our nation, and the world, this conference must not be allowed to take place. The citizens of Houston must call Mayor McConn and tell him to act to stop this conference. Call Mayor McConn at 222-3141.
